Through Guidance, As We Meet Our Challenges With Stimulation

Learning the composition and properties of substances is the major objective of chemistry lab.

Learning to read and interpret a map is essential in the understanding of geography.

The guidance that we receive now partially determines the degree of our success in attaining future goals. Therefore, when we feel uncertain or confused, it is important that we seek guidance from a mature adult; our principal, teachers, and guidance department are excellent sources for advice. We are now preparing to guide others later.

The Guidance Department provides many informative brochures on colleges and careers.

WHAT PEOPLE WORE
NEWS YEAR
NEWS YEAR

Through Scholarship, As We Prepare for Future Endeavors . . .

The process of dissecting requires applying one's knowledge.

Outdoors provides a varied atmosphere for study.

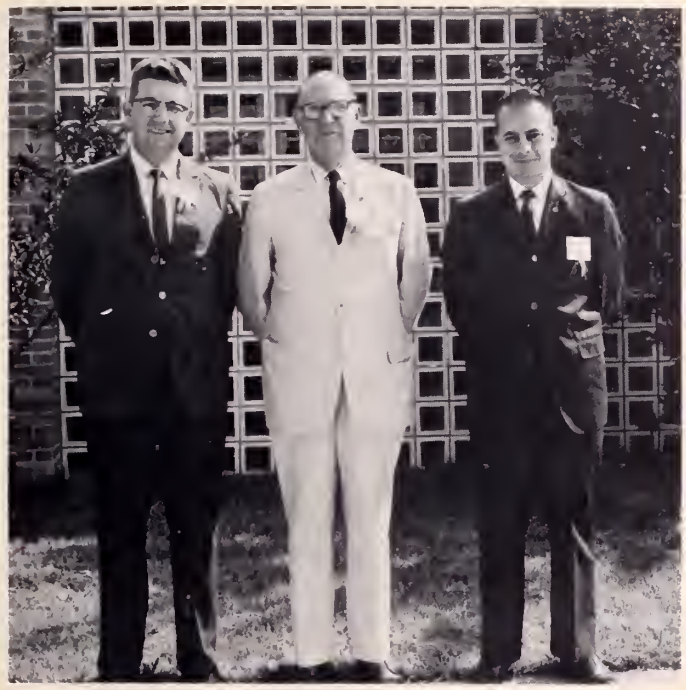
For conscientious students, a place can always be found for study.

The scholarship that we develop now as students must be firm enough to serve as the basic foundation of our adult lives. We shall later rely upon this knowledge in order to better understand the world around us. It is our responsibility to take full advantage of the present opportunities to learn, and we must gain all the knowledge which is in our power to attain to meet the challenge of tomorrow.

Through Leadership, As We Develop Into Tomorrow's Leaders . . .

A distinguished leader in our community, Mr. Frank W. Cox, commends the student body on its progress in working together as a unit.

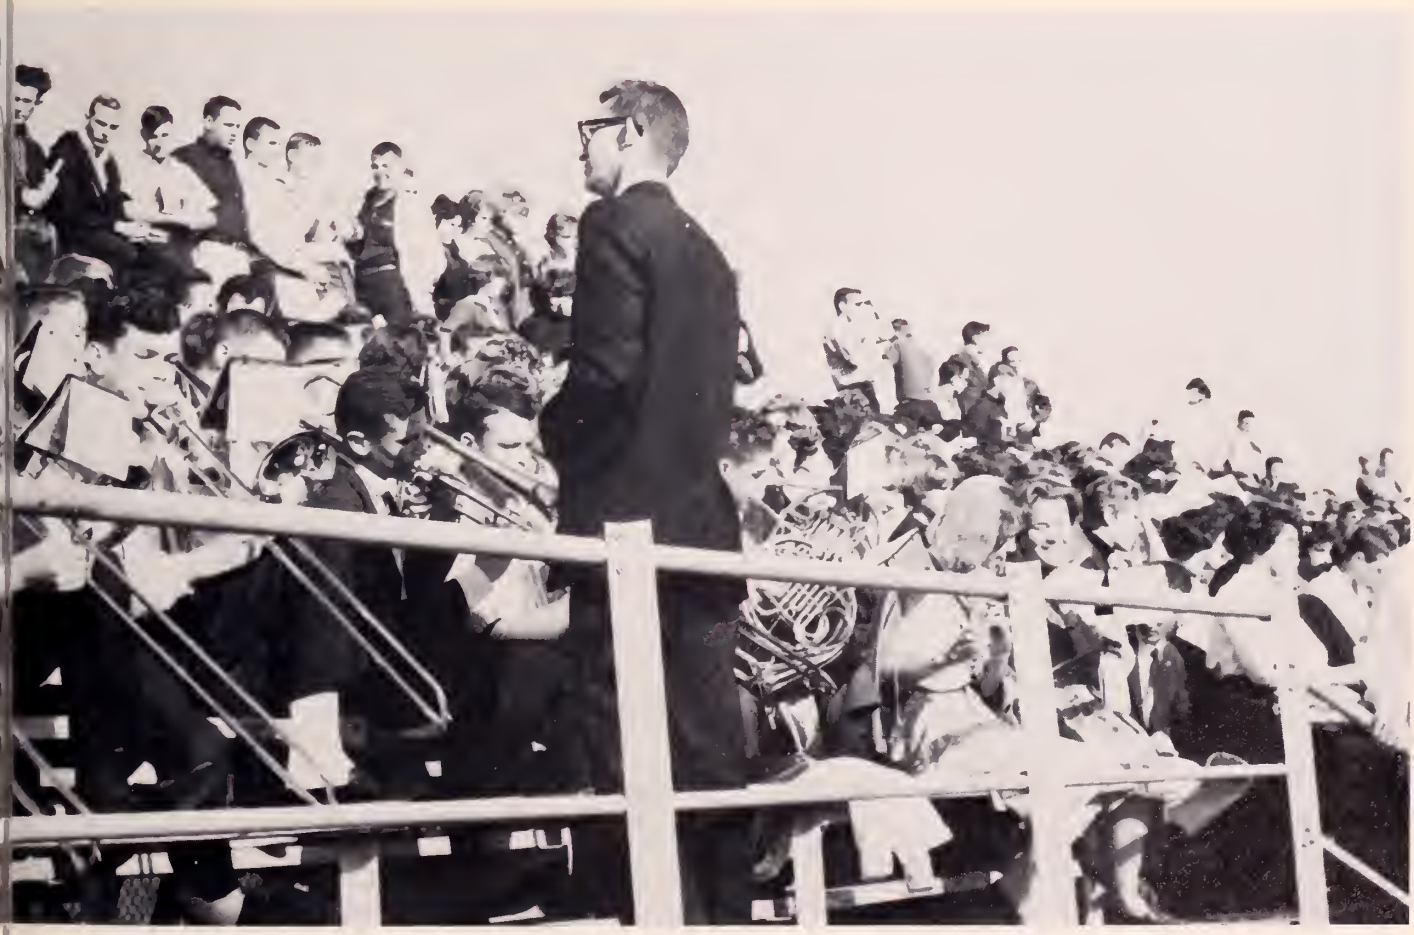
The S.C.A. Executive Council spends many hours outside of school in planning and organizing a successful year.



We, as devoted students, have many opportunities to acquire the certain distinguished quality of leadership. It is equally important for us to be good followers as well as good leaders. As we assume our positions as respected students of our school, it is in preparation to later accept the leadership of Tomorrow's world, for it is dependent upon us as its future leaders.

Mayor Dusch of Virginia Beach spoke to our Inter-Club-Council this summer on service to the city; Mr. Carroll and Mr. Dent also spoke on service to the school.

An integral part of our pep rallies, the band, under the direction of Mr. Ackels, ignites school spirit.



The victorious Falcons enter the field after halftime in the Thanksgiving Day Game.

Physical fitness is of great importance in our world of today. Through support of and interest in our school's athletic programs, we progress one more step in physical and mental maturity. It is essential that we develop a true sense of sportsmanship if we are to succeed in future endeavors.

Learning to accept defeat is a fundamental objective practiced in the physical education classes.

Through Sportsmanship, As We Learn To Live With The World . . .

The clasp of sportsmanship begins an interesting volleyball game.

Although the rivalry is strong, the representatives of the Falcons and of the Knights clasp in a gesture of friendship before the game is to begin.

Through

Citizenship,

As We Are

The Backbone

Of The Future . . .

Our hootin' folk singers display their talent at the Hootenanny-Sockhop.

Jim Martin presents the 1963 TALON, our first edition, to Mr. Cox.

A friendship circle with all members praying together ends a typical Tri-Hi-Y meeting.

The library provides resourceful knowledge for the citizens of tomorrow.

Within each daily situation at school, we have the opportunities to experience mature guidance, acquire unequalled scholarship, exercise preparatory leadership, and develop true sportsmanship. We must learn to think critically, evaluate carefully, speak thoughtfully, discuss intelligently, and act accordingly. Our school must produce good citizens, for we are the backbone of the future--the pulse of the nation.

Hail, Frank Cox High

Comrades, all now stand together,
Lift your voices high;
Proudly wear the Falcon's feather,
Banner of Cox High.
Green and white and gold are gleaming
Proud against the sky;
Falcon's banners ever streaming,
Hail to Frank Cox High.

Not the thunder of the ocean
As it meets the shore
Can surpass our heart's devotion
Now and ever more.
When our high school days are over
And from you we part,
Love for you dear Frank Cox High
Will live within each heart.

Sincerely Dedicated . . .

To become outstanding in an administration as fine as ours, an individual must exercise understanding, belief in his own judgment, firm leadership, and unequaled scholarship in the fulfillment of his duties. He must be willing to spend his time working for and with others and be prepared to counsel with those needing advice. In conclusion, he must be a devoted leader whom one can depend upon, a friend in whom one can confide, and a mature adult whom one can respect.

We consider it a privilege and honor to recognize such an individual within our school. The annual staff proudly dedicates the '64 TALON to our assistant principal, Mr. J. B. Dent.

Guidance

. . . In Each Mass, A Guiding Light . . .

This past fall when 1800 apprehensive freshmen, sophomores, and juniors began another school year at Cox, they were met by a very capable administration. Just as there were many additions to the student body, so were there new members in our faculty. The new teachers had to become familiar with our school and its objectives in education; the teachers that had previously taught here at Cox had to adjust to the back-to-school routine and make plans for a successful, informative year.

As the months passed by, the relationship between the administration and the student assemblage became closer within each daily situation. The willingness and friendliness of the faculty when sought for advice certainly enlightened the lives of the students.

We are very proud of our administration and its achievement of quality guidance and teaching.

Scholarship

. . . Our Scholarship, The Strength of The Nation . . .

Our scholarship is the strength and future of our nation; our contributions to the world of Tomorrow will leave a definite mark upon civilization. To the student assemblage here at Cox, this realization emphasizes the importance of a substantial education.

During this past school year, we -- the student body -- worked together with the administration towards the achievement of higher scholarship. At first, there were many adjustments to be made, but as a unified mass we took full advantage of the opportunities to learn and met each obstacle as it presented itself.

Scholarship is the most important product of our school. The many outstanding scholars here within Cox will certainly assume, as adults, respected positions in both occupational and social aspects.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

The Junior Class has had a busy and successful year. We were primarily concerned with money-making projects which will help with the cost of our senior year and the presentation of the gift to the school when we leave. We were the first class to order rings and to present them at THE RING DANCE. We presented the school with a victory pennant, THE TALENT SHOW, and the SPRING BALL. In all of these activities we were ably assisted by our class officers, committee chairmen, and sponsors.

We, the Class of 1965, have a great responsibility to Cox High School for we are the first graduating class and must by our character and accomplishments provide a good example for underclassmen and future students of our school.

The Long-Awaited High

A ring is a sound which reverberates from a body, as the memory of our class will continue to ring throughout the remaining years of our lives. To ring is to encircle--to give our class unity and distinction.

We, the Class of 1965, wish to express our deep gratitude to the Ring Committee who designed our rings. We, in turn, will wear our rings with pride and dignity, reflecting our devotion to Frank W. Cox High School.

light Of Our Junior Year . . .

Culminating the life of every junior, our class rings are symbolic of the major objectives of our high school years. On one side of the band is the Latin motto, meaning "Here, I come, I work, I learn", encircling our school seal. On the other side is a modification of the Virginia Beach City seal; our new city is synonymous to us, as we will be the first graduating class.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Class of '66, noted for its enthusiasm, kicked the year off to a good start with their Hootenanny Sock-Hop - held in the Cox High Cafeteria. The second social event was the Mr. and Miss Sophomore Class Dance held in November, at which time Mr. and Miss Sophomore Class were crowned. In the second semester, a bottle drive between the sophomores of Cox and Kellam, ending in a hayride, proved to be fun and beneficial to the class's treasury.

The Sophomore Class service project for the year was the placement of numbers on the seats of the auditorium. Climaxing the year of '63 - '64, came the sponsorship of The Senior Prom for next year.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

During 1963-64, the Freshman Class of Frank W. Cox High School has proven itself worthy in all respects of the outstanding reputation which our school has obtained as a whole. Represented on the Executive Committee of our S.C.A. by their president, Peter Osterhous, the Freshmen have shown increasing interest in school government and the support of all school projects and activities. Among the scheduled events for the year was a dance sponsored by the Freshman Class after one of our basketball games. When the Cox stadium opens next September for another Falcon football season, a flag pole donated by the Freshman Class will stand ready to receive our national banner; for this spring, the class has planned to hold a dance and to sponsor the Freshman Class Fair.

Leadership

. . . Today's Youth, The Leaders of Tomorrow . . .

The many curricular and extra-curricular organizations here at Cox benefitted us as we assumed our positions as respected leaders and representatives of the school. Through our continued services and never-ending efforts, we earned our privileges of self-government; we strived together, as a student body, towards a more outstanding Cox High.

The activities offered were filled with opportunities for each individual in the student assemblage to express his personality, to learn to live and work with others, and to gain valuable experience in the acceptance of responsibilities. On the whole, we were prompted--in the acquisition of leadership--by the sincere desire to be of service to ourselves, our community, and our world; we advanced one step closer to maturity as we performed dedicated acts of service to our fellow man.

High school is preparatory to the attainment of maturity, and we are now in preparation to later accept the leadership of Tomorrow's world.

Student Cooperative Association

Because activities play such an important role in the social and scholastic life of the students of Cox High, an organization has been formed to meet the needs for participation and leadership. In the Student Cooperative Association, one finds the reflections of the varied accomplishments, interests, and ideals of the entire student assemblage.

The Executive Committee--composed of elected officers and appointed members--initiates the yearly programs which are designed to promote better teacher-student relations, to advance learning, and to provide opportunities for the students to lead and govern themselves.

In the past year the S.C.A. has fostered numerous projects to further its goals. By investigating and working to meet the many stipulations which are essential to school accreditation, through the sale of Student Council membership cards, by the sponsorship of events such as the end of the year dance, "Hidden Paradise," cooperating in the fund-raising for a future foreign exchange student, and contributing to the welfare of the school community, our student government has proven itself an effective and energetic organization.

I.C.C.--three letters heard frequently at Cox. The Inter-Club Council, an organization composed of club representatives, is essentail to the development of our school. People representing all facets of scholastic and extra-curricular interests meet bi-monthly to collaborate in the planning of our school's many functions.

The Inter-Club Council holds two Leadership Conferences each year; the council outlines events for the first semester at the summer conference, and during the mid-year conference, functions to be held in the second semester are planned. Besides coordinating and scheduling activities, the Inter-Club Council strives to better the relationship between the clubs and to plan an enriching school year.

The excellent leadership of Sarah Brittingham, Vice-president of the Student Cooperative Association, and the support of the student assemblage greatly determined the success of the Inter-Club Council this past year.

The Talon Staff

The members of the TALON Staff have exhibited dedication, conscientiousness, originality, and cooperation in their determination to present an annual equal to the atmosphere of the school; however, without the expert guidance of the staff sponsor, Miss Venny Drates, and the cooperation of the faculty and of the entire student body, the 1964 TALON would have been an impossibility.

Coxswain Calls Out Students Activities

Miss Sally Wright
Editor-in-chief

Wherever there are high school students, there is news, and wherever there is news, the members of the Coxswain staff are on hand to record it in pictures and print. Their task is to reflect the attitudes and opinions of the students, present articles of interest and concern to youth, and keep the school informed about the various activities taking place. Printing ten issues per school year, our newspaper staff continues to strive for improved journalism and to arouse within Cox students a deeper sense of pride and appreciation for the school itself.

The goals of the Conlegium Latinum Club are to present to the modern Latin student the background and culture surrounding this language and to create renewed interest in the ancient classics. In its attempt to portray for its members the more unique aspects of Roman history, the club organized and presented, as entertainment for a regular meeting, a series of skits taken from George Bernard Shaw's CAESAR AND CLEOPATRA, enacted by several club members.

The highlight of the year for the Conlegium Latinum Club was when it was presented the "Best Interest Club of the Year" award at the Spring Ball in 1963.

Key Club International

Our Key Club, one of the best operated and organized service clubs in the entire international network of them, is a repository of young men whose character, intelligence, and ability stamps them as leaders of today's school and tomorrow's world. The objective aim of the Key Club this year was the development of the leadership ability, of the initiative, and of good citizenship practices of it members; the attainment of these qualities, which are vital for a useful and successful life, is encouraged by each member's acceptance of his responsibilities in the administration and the activities of the club.

The Key Club, mostly noted for its world-wide service program, shared "The Most Outstanding Service Club" award with the Kappa Delta Phi Tri-Hi-Y last spring. A few of the Key Club's many achievements this year were the sponsorship of the Holly Wreath Ball, the selling of refreshments at all athletic and social events, the beautification of the school grounds of Cox and its surrounding area, and the care of Kellam Park. The club members have not only provided the school with improvement services but also have reached out beyond school life to undertake projects that would be of benefit to the entire community.

The Kappa Delta Phi Tri-Hi-Y

Kappa Delta Phi Tri-Hi-Y is a fellowship of young women committed to the development of Christian character and to the establishment of a finer society. The Tri-Hi-Y platform emphasizes both contribution and religion; as each girl strives to develop the body, the mind, and the spirit, she dedicates herself to serve the community and the world.

As Kappa Delta Phi is both a serivce and a religious organization, its many projects aid the fulfillment of each; it received recognition for its outstanding contributions when it shared the "Most Outstanding Service Club" award with the Key Club for 1962-63. This year, Kappa Delta Phi challenged Sigma Alpha Beta Tri-Hi-Y in a Powder-Puff Football Game; sponsored a School-Spirit Dance featuring The Invictas; conducted a mother-daughter banquet at the Pine Tree Inn for the installation of the new members; served as models in the Hi-Y fall fashion show; attended the District Convention held at Granby High School and the Greek Orthodox Church in Norfolk; maintained a school bulletin board throughout the year; sold rosettes and programs at athletic events; painted the Guidance Department; donated Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to needy families; held a pajama party for its members and their guests; visited a convalescent home; sponsored the Spring Fashion Preview; and made Easter baskets for the children in the Norfolk Orphanage.

Also as a service club, Kappa Delta Phi provides many opportunities for its members to share responsibility while learning the quality of leadership. The members of Kappa Delta Phi agree that this club plays an important role in preparing each girl to assume her position as a respected citizen of Tomorrow's world.

Sigma Alpha Beta Promotes High Standards Of Christian Character

By helping to create a more Christ-like attitude in the areas of speech, sports, scholarship, and right living, the members of the Sigma Alpha Beta Tri-Hi-Y have served as an example to their school, homes, and communities. This year has found the more athletic members competing with the Kappa Delta Phi Tri-Hi-Y in a hard fought powder puff football game. Among their other projects were the co-sponsorship of the Talent Show with the junior class and the Mother-Daughter Banquet. The annual Sadie Hawkin's Dance also took place under this club's direction.

Amicitia Y-Teens Mold Tomorrow's Citizens

Ambitious is the word for the Amicitia Y-Teens. The past three years of their existence has been not only eventful but also rewarding. Their goal is to strive to promote friendship among the young teens of America and to help those who need assistance.

In projects, such as Toys for Tots, Clean-up, Book-Drive, Donut Sale, acquisition award by the Key Club for the Canned Food Drive and attendance to church together, they have well represented the Y.W.C.A. They also took part in a Y.W.C.A. Membership Rally, World Fellowship Dinner, Student Assembly with Miss Anne Guthrie, Mid-Winter Ball, and they sent a representative to Roslyn Conference in Richmond. This club will continue along the same path--forward to develope tomorrow's citizens.

Sportsmanship

. . . Sportsmanship, An Ultimate Reward Of Maturity . . .

The passing of each season witnesses some athletic event at Cox whether it be in the practice or competitive stage. The emphasis on physical maturity was carried out by our extensive physical education and athletic programs. Participation in and support of our Falcon teamwork enabled us to develop strong minds, strong bodies, and a sense of good sportsmanship.

The ultimate rewards of sportsmanship were many: the ability to work in harmony with others, the honor of being on a team, and the achievement of precise thinking and rational actions.

We, who learned to help ourselves by helping our colleagues, will find the road of success a smooth one. The society in which we live is highly competitive, and we must learn to live with the world.

The tough Falcon squad jokes before the Thanksgiving Day game with Kellam.

Cox-0; Deep Creek-14

The Falcons made a reasonable showing of their first venture into varsity football competition. Losing to the Hornets by a score of 14 to 0, the Falcons' defense was shattered time and time again by the passing of David Underwood of the Hornets. Deep Creek scored their two touchdowns in the first half of the game; in the second half, the Falcons, inspired by Coach Barbour during half-time--played a strictly defensive game with neither offense scoring. Outstanding players for Cox were defensvie halfbacks Mike Drye (40) and Bill Lockwood (12), and linebacker Skip Santii (63).

Cox-0; Ferguson-32

The Falcons failed to make much of a showing up against Ferguson; Bill Scharanus, the 220 pound fullback who shattered the Cox line for five- and ten-yard gains for the Mariners, scored all five touchdowns. The three Falcon stars for the night were Doug White (13) at quarterback, Bill Williams (22) at halfback, and again Skip Santti (63) at linebacker.

Cox-12; Kellam-7

An estimated crowd of 3000 packed the Falcons unfinished stadium to watch Cox trip Kellam 12-7. The first score was made by the Knights on a touchdown pass from Ronnie Morris to Dennis Rich; the conversion made the score 7-0. The Falcons, not to be outdone, scored just before the end of the first half; Kellam led at the half 7-6. The Falcons nipped the Knights 12-7 when midway through the fourth quarter Thom Gallagher (10) passed to John Bolger (33) for the final touchdown.

Cox-6; Kecoughtan-6

The Falcons, led by fleet-footed halfback Mike Drye (40), battled to a 6-6 tie with Kecoughtan. Drye ran an end sweep in the second quarter scoring the first touchdown of the night; the Cox Eleven held the Indians from scoring until the end of the second period when after a blocked punt, Kecoughtan scored. The game proved to remain the same throughout the final half. The outstanding Cox players were Drye, Bill Williams (22) at right halfback, and John Bolger (33) at fullback.

Cox-14; Virginia Beach-14

Cox tied the Virginia Beach Seahawks, pulling off the biggest upset of the year; both teams played in even terms throughout the first two quarters until Seahawk quarterback Rick Nolan plowed over the one-yard line for the first score of the night; Chris Hanson scored the conversion. The half ended with the Seahawks-7, the Falcons-0.

The Virginia Beach "Green and White" scored in the third quarter when Chris Hanson made a touchdown; Nolan took the ball in for the extra point. Early in the fourth quarter the Falcons ripped off an 80-yard drive with Thom Gallagher (10) taking the ball in for the score; Jim Podlesni (31) kicked the conversion. After holding off the Beach again, Cox made another excursion down the field when Gallagher passed to Mike Drye (40); Jim Podlesni's successful conversion climaxed the score and tied the game, 14-14.

Cox-12; Chuckatuck-0

The Falcon Eleven, led by shifty halfback Mike Drye (40), shut out Chuckatuck 12-0. Neither team scored throughout the first and second periods; then after a long drive, Drye went in for the touchdown; the conversion failed, and Cox was leading 6-0 at the half. The second half was much like the first until Drye scored again in the final quarter. Although Drye actually made three touchdowns, the Falcons tallied only twelve points because of an infraction. The game ended with the Falcon trounce over the Indians, 12-0.

Cox-6; Suffolk-19

Cox lost its third game of the season by a score of 19-6. Although neither team was able to move the ball in the first quarter, Suffolk scored early in the second period, failing to make the extra point. The Falcons drove to score on a pass from Thom Gallagher (10) to Mike Drye (40); the conversion failed. Suffolk bounced back to score a touchdown and a conversion minutes before the end of the first half. The Falcons, bogged down by their own mistakes, failed to score again; however, Suffolk tallied once more and made the final score 19-6.

Cox-19; Oscar Smith-12

The Cox Eleven, led by Mike Drye (40), Bill Williams (22), and John Bolger (33), pulled off another upset victory over the high-rated Oscar Smith. The Falcons scored late in the second quarter when Thom Gallagher (10) plunged in from the three-yard line; at the half Cox was leading 6-0. The Tigers bounced back in the third quarter with the score-tying touchdown. Then John Bolger ran the kickoff 85 yards for another Falcon score; even though the extra point failed, Cox had a six-point lead. The Tigers roared back again with another score-tying touchdown. Then after a 50 yard drive, Thom Gallagher took the ball in for the Falcons' winning touchdown; Jim Podlesni's (31) conversion made the final score Cox-19, Smith-12.

Cox-35; Kellam-18

The climax of the Falcon football and season occured on Thanksgiving Day when the Cox Eleven trounced the Kellam Knights 35-18. Top-scoring halfback, Mike Drye (40) scored two touchdowns, one on a run and the other on a pass from Doug White (13). John Bolger (33) scored six points on a run, and Bill Williams (22) also scored on a pass from Doug White; tackle Larry Royal made the last Cox score by falling on a fumble. For the Knights, Ronnie Morris scored two touchdowns and threw another to Dennis Rich.

Jayvee Falcon Basketball

This school year has witnessed athletic participation in both the varsity and junior varsity levels for the first time in Cox's three year history.

Mr. Lyons, in his first season of Falcon basketball coaching, has produced a successful team; it was certainly a pleasure to watch the Jayvees not only meet their challenges but also demonstrate the cooperative efforts that are so typical of our Falcon teams.

Bill Calfee adds two more points to his list.

Coach Tugwell and Wrestlers Achieve Wide Recognition For Record of Ten Wins and Two Losses

Mr. Bob Tugwell, in his first year of coaching at Cox, came to us from Northside Jr. High School. He started his wrestling career as a sophomore at Norview High School, where in his senior year, he was undefeated and lost the state championship by only one point; traveling to the Citadel in Charleston, South Carolina, he was second in the Southern Conference Wrestling tournament. He then transferred to East Carolina, where he wrestled until his graduation.

Here at Cox Mr. Tugwell teaches Biology. He is responsible for the great success that the Falcon Wrestling Team has experienced. The final record, 10 wins, 2 losses, reflects the success that Mr. Tugwell and the wrestlers have achieved.

'63 Golf

Golf is a sport that takes years of practice and patience to become good at it. This is one sport that you cannot rush into and expect to be great your first time out on the course. All of the boys on the team have been playing a number of years and are beginning to become refined players. Mr. Lyons, coach of the team, has said that each and everyone of the boys on the team have the potential to become great golfers. Only one player on the whole team has beaten Mr. Lyons. This player is Doug White who carded a 68 on 18 holes to beat the coach by 2 strokes. Says Mr. Lyons of Doug, "He is perhaps the best high school player in the county, possibly in the state." The team this year has done an excellent job and hopes to do even better next year.

Frosty Norvell digs in to make a hit.

The 1963 Varsity Baseball Team

Mr. Fred Soles, coach of the 1963 Varsity Baseball Team, led the Falcons to a winning season. Playing in a Group II level, the team showed undying enthusiasm and sportsmanship. For the first time on a home field, as well as away, the boys outplayed many teams, and their cooperative team spirit outshined that of the many schools they opposed during the season. We are certainly proud of the representation that the 1963 team made for Cox High.

Coxmen Organized

A group newly organized this year is the Coxmen. These boys hope to encourage the practice of good sportsmanship by setting a precedent for the student body to follow. They attended all basketball games, home and away, and aided both the Varsity and J.V. cheerleaders cheer our teams to victory. They also conducted a special opening ceremony at all home games, setting a fine example for the Cox reputation. It is hoped that this organization will have more student support next year and be even more beneficial to Cox.

Citizenship

. . . The Backbone Of The Future, The Pulse Of The Nation . . .

In our school during this past year, as in the world at large, each individual in the student assemblage guided his conduct by the principles of good citizenship. As a unit, we performed our daily acts of routine with fortitude and integrity. Many predicaments arose that tested our effectiveness and devotion, but we proudly upheld our Code of Ethics and brought more honor to our Cox High.

It was up to our school to produce 1800 independent young citizens. Only after we had experienced mature guidance, excellent scholarship, preparatory leadership, and good sportsmanship did we feel that we had lived up to the set standards of citizenship and could declare our school's purposes successful.

We are an essential part of the world of Tomorrow; we must strive to become active and well-informed citizens of our nation.

Cheers, Chants, and Cheerleaders . . .

Powder Puffs 'n Pompoms . . .

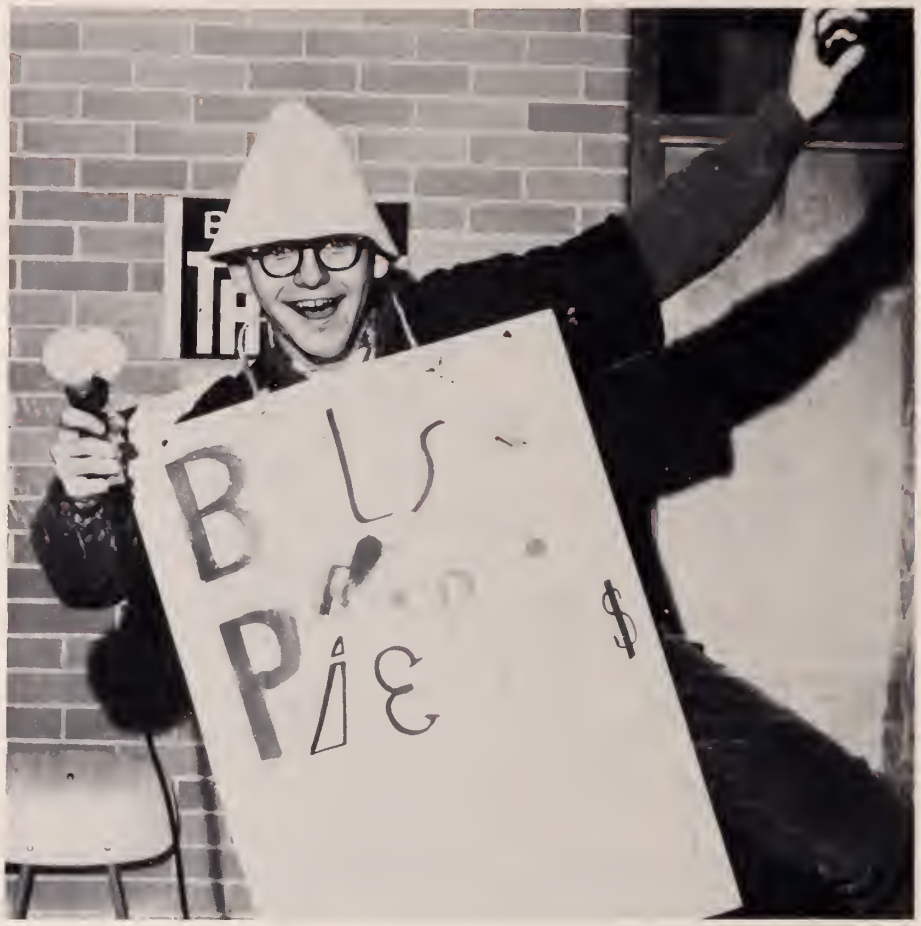
Although "Kappa" lost the game 6-0, they did win the "toss of the coin"--the tug-of-war.

The "Cheerleaders' provided team spirit and lots of laughs.

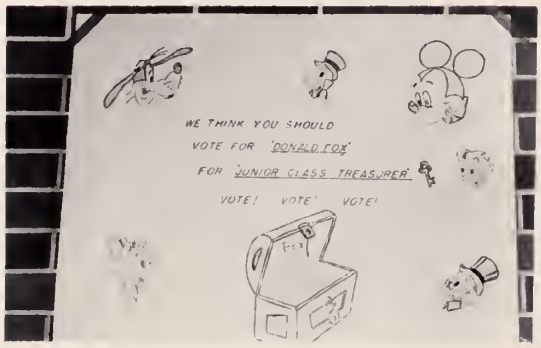
The game was really much faster than displayed in this "play".

The official--Mr. French--often had to tell the teams which one had possession of the ball.

Victory for the "Falcons" . . .



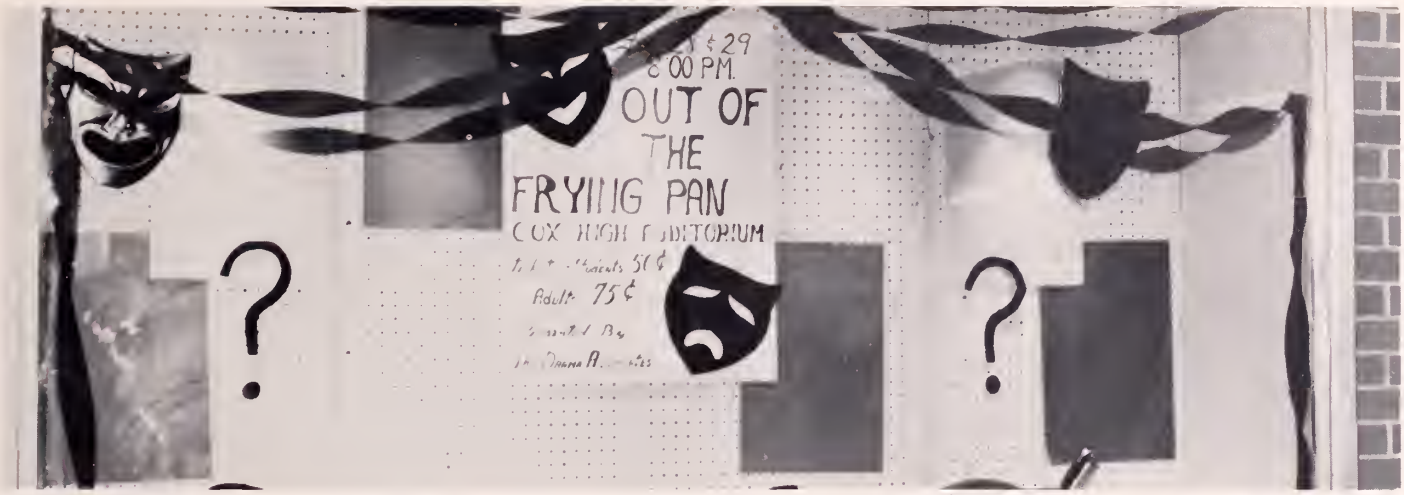
"So what if I look funny? I'm selling tickets!"



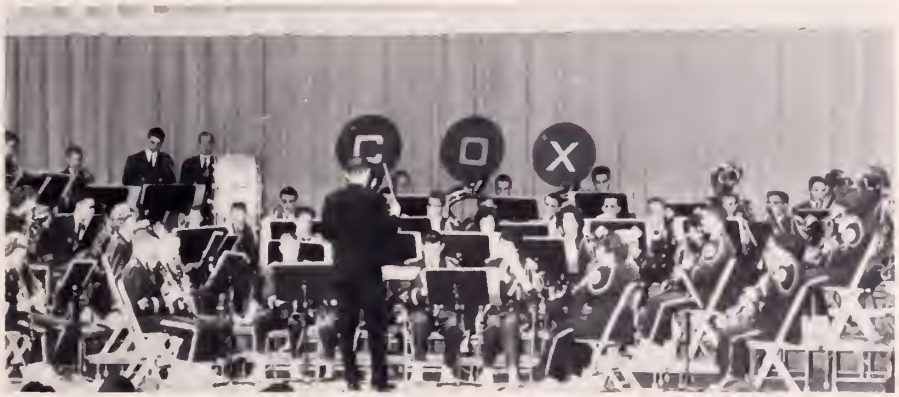
"Publicity scaled on the students mentality level?"

"In the Turkey Day Game, the Knights forgot it was daytime . . ."

"You throw that ice cream and I'll . . . I'll eat it!"



"I found it! I found it! There's the frying pan! There it is! . ."



". . . and now we'll play Pizarro Pretzel's version of 'That's When Your Heartburn Begins'."

Early morning "studying"?

". . . listen, the book's wrong! I KNOW I'm right . . ."

"But, Mother, you've GOT to come get me! It's five miles home and . . ."

"R-A-T-T-F-I-N-K, Ratfink!"

"It's a bird, it's a plane . . ."

"It's a stickup . . . er . . . a kickup!"

"I'm okay. You should see the other guy . . ."

"The morning after the night before . . ."

"I refuse to give the child back . . ."

"Ha! Flattery will get you no where . . ."

"Cigar, cigarette, Tiparillo?"

"If only Mao could see us now!"

"Who's the wise guy with the gum?"

Mr. and Miss Freshman Class 1964

Pat Self, a vivacious and enthusiastic Cox junior varsity cheerleader, has demonstrated her loyalty and interest in her school not only at the games but also by her representative duties in the Student Council and her affiliation with the Girls Glee Club. During her free time, Pat enjoys outdoor recreation, such as water skiing and swimming. Planning to attend Wake Forest College, Pat would like to enter a branch of secretarial work. Her gracious manner, abundant friendliness, and charming personality have made her a welcomed sight at the many school activities which she attends.

Serving as vice-president of his class, Steve Ayers has shown himself to be a leader not only in the upholding of the duties of his office but also in the maintenance of a high scholastic average. Coming to us from the West Coast, Steve aspires to a military career and plans to attend Annapolis. His preferences in academic subjects include biology and history. His fellow students and classmates find in his courtesy, friendliness, and quiet sense of authority a worthy companion in any undertaking.

Mr. and Miss Sophomore Class 1964

The Sophomore Class owes much to Gene Cochran for his unselfish and abounding contributions of time and energy to the support of his school. Gene--the President of the Sophomore Class--ranks high in scholastic activities and sports participation, and has rendered active interest and service to the Cox Key Club and to the ring committee of the S.C.A. His characteristic leadership and cordial, frank manner have won him the admiration and friendship of the student body and of the faculty.

The title of "Miss Sophomore Class," which was bestowed upon Helen Twiford this year, is an example of the respect and friendship accorded her by the sophomores at Cox. She has often proven herself an energetic worker as well as an outstanding leader, for she has held the office of S.C.A. treasurer and is actively participating on the executive committees of the S.C.A. and of the Sophomore Class. With her charming personality and versatility, Helen can make even a stranger at Cox feel at home.

Mr. and Miss Junior Class 1964

Leon Tew, a familiar figure seen frequently in the halls of Cox High, is an active member of the Junior Class. He currently serves as vice-president of the Key Club and is a representative in the S.C.A. In the past, Leon has lettered in wrestling and football. With his forceful personality and friendly manner coupled with his enthusiasm, he shows why he is an outstanding student at Cox.

As Co-Captain of the varsity cheerleaders and an active member and officer of Kappa Delta Phi Tri-Hi-Y, Joan Shaffer displays her prominence in the Junior Class. She is especially interested in the promotion of school spirit through a more active participation in the sports program. An amateur artist and pianist, she further demonstrates her many-sided personality through this enjoyment of the arts.

Miss 16 of America

Lynnel Bass, a dancer and model, is training for her future by taking dramatics. After winning the national title of Miss 16 she has appeared on numerous television programs. Aside from her spots on local shows, Lynnel has also participated in a New York program which was shown on a national circuit. It is quite obvious that Lynnel has already gotten a big start on her way to stardom.

Brad Stillman

Outstanding Teenager

Brad Stillman may be quickly recognized in the halls of Cox High by his amiable manner and winning smile. There is no single quality which makes a student leader, but his characteristic ease around other people has greatly aided Brad in achieving this goal. Having participated in school and community projects, he has worked actively with many of the adult leaders of Virginia Beach. Earlier this year the unique title of International Key Club Representative was awarded to Brad Stillman, president of our Junior Class.

Advertising

. . . Advertising, Our Selective Freedom . . .

An advertising media is very essential to our society as it exemplifies our selective freedom. The publication of this yearbook would have been an impossibility without the support of our patrons and sponsors; their patronage enabled the foundation of the Talon staff to be self-supporting and independent.

Our entire school is very indebted to our patrons and sponsors for their recognition of and interest in our many activities. This advertising section of the Talon is devoted to these individuals and establishments.

To one of the cute
girls I know. Even though I don't understand you all of the time. HA, HUM
I really do wish you the best of luck in the future.

To a sweet girl who sometimes gave me some trouble in
Mr. Mitchell's Math class
Lot of Luck
Kenny
Pittman

Dear Laura,
You're one of the most vivacious jubs that I've ever known. May God be your guide in all your ventures always.
And may the real treasures of life be yours (love, happiness, truth, strength).

Luck'a tuck,
Susie Gracey

Laura,
To one of the nicest people I have ever known. It has been a pleasure to run track with you.
Good Luck,
Love Ya,
Carol Steven

Laura,
It has really
been a pleasure knowing you this year. Your friendliness has really brightened of P.E. class.
Lots of luck in your junior year and may all your dreams come true.
Prudy Rank

Laura,
Remember the hairy lunches we've had together this year
Lots of Luck,
Ann Steven

To Laura.
A real real sweet girl. Live enjoyed knowing you now & in the future. Remember me. Mitch & all the fun we've had. Good luck now & in the future.
Love Ya,
Bonnie

To a real sweet girl who I hope doesn't get Drates again
Michael [illegible]

Laura
As you slide down the banister of life, don't get a splinter in your career. It's been nice going to ~~the~~ school with you and even nicer to be a friend of yours. Stay as sweet as you are and you'll never have anytrouble in the future.
Your friend
Robert Dolan

Laura
Best of Luck to a really sweet person in hopes that you achieve
your goals in life
and have a very successful
future.

Judi Hupman

P.S. Sure hope you pass English this semester.

Laura,
Although I've only known for for just this year - I feel as though you've been a close friend for a long time. Keep your friendly smile. Have a wonderful summer.
Love,
Evelyn Petree

Laura,
I'll always remember you, how can I forget the nicest girl in my classes + I don't know what
"cheisk" means ...
